BEYOND The STREETS[®]
A COLORING BOOK

BEYOND THE STREETS is about education of the arts through entertainment. In today's world of life through your phones - getting one excited IRL is a challenge. Thankfully along with many amazing artists we' have been able to do that.

The last few years watching exhibit goers get excited to take a photo with a piece and then a few minutes later see them carefully reading the didactic text is a win. Touring groups young and old through BEYOND THE STREETS and answering questions and having new conversations about the work on things I didn't even think about makes me feel great.

I had known about Free Arts NYC for awhile but learned more about them and met them during the BEYOND THE STREETS 2019 NYC exhibit. I am inspired by their mission and hope this coloring book inspires many to put down their phones and be creative. All proceeds from this coloring book will go to Free Arts NYC. Please look look them up and help in their mission to empower underserved youth through art.

Now get colouring.

- Roger Gastman

Free Arts NYC empowers underserved youth through art and mentoring programs to develop their creativity, confidence, and skills to succeed. We believe art is essential in fostering creative expression for the children of New York City, no matter the circumstances. Art is a powerful tool that can serve as a coping mechanism with the ability to shape and reframe perspectives during challenging times.
